

Barry Goldin Promoted to President of Unified AV Systems, Inc.

Atlanta, GA – Unified AV Systems, Inc. June 18, 2014 - Barry Goldin has been promoted to President of Unified AV Systems. Barry has been in the ProAV industry of Audio-Visual and Video Systems Integration for over 20 years. During this time he has held various roles starting in engineering, sales, sales management and operations. Barry joined the Unified AV Systems team in February of 2013 as Chief Operating Officer.

In his new role as President, Mr. Goldin will be responsible for the execution of board-level strategies, daily operations, and implementation and oversight of policies and procedures.

Jim Pressley, Unified AV's Board Chairman and former CEO will center on strategic planning, key account support, banking and financial relationships. Bruce Banbury, Founder/Director and former President of the company, will continue to support key accounts, mentor and develop the sales team, identify new vertical markets and sales opportunities.

Mr. Banbury notes; "This promotion completes the strategy of developing the growth initiatives and the long-term leadership of the company. It sets the stage for continued unification and the direction moving forward. We love the clarity of the move and we look forward to Barry and the rest of his team taking full control of our day to day operations."

About Unified AV Systems

Unified AV Systems, Inc. (UAVS) is a leading audio-visual, videoconferencing and collaborative video communications (ProAV) integrator in the Southeastern U.S. region. The company is headquartered in Atlanta, GA with sales offices in Greenville & Columbia SC, Charlotte, Greensboro & Raleigh, NC as well as additional sales and technical support across the region: www.UnifiedAV.com Unified AV Systems was created by the merger of Atlanta, GA-based Multi Media Services and Charlotte, NC-based Video Systems of the Carolinas on June 6, 2011.

UAVS has over 130 employee "owners" since the corporation is an ESOP (Employee Stock Ownership Plan) Company, which gives employees ownership stock in the company as a result of the merger.

Unified AV Systems is an active member of The USAV Group: www.usavgroup.net

Media Inquiries:

Contact: Keith Taylor, Sr. Vice-President

Unified AV Systems, Inc.

770.955.7368

ktaylor@UnifiedAV.com

www.UnifiedAV.com